I. Current and Incoming Officers

Current Officers

Changqi Wu: Chapter Chair, toppdog@gsm.pku.edu.cn

Changhui Zhou,: Secretary General, czhou@gsm.pku.edu.cn

II. Summary of Membership

China Chapter has gradually built up its membership as more and more scholars in China consider AIB is a reputable academic organization through which to enhance their scholarship. An increasing number of AIB fellows such Peter Buckley, Carl Fey, Arie Lewin, Yadong Luo, Marjorie Leyles, Klaus Meyer, Oded Shenkar, George Yip have residences in Chinese academic institutions and/or have honourable positions.

The Chapter’s website is up and running and the Chapter will continue to promote the membership. AIB becomes much better academic organization through Chapter’s formal and informal promotion effort.

III. Summary of Financial Status

As the Chapter does not collect membership fees at current operational mode, the activities, such as conferences, rely on institutional and corporate sponsors. The membership fees, if charged, are not expected to cover Chapter activities, so corporate and institutional sponsors are important funding source in a foreseeable future. The Chapter has its secretariat anchored to Institute of International Business and Management, Peking University that provides logistic and administrative support.

IV. Summary of Meetings Held This Year

The Chapter did not organize its first conference in the year of 2013, but is actively planning for the meeting in 2014

V. Plans for Future Meetings
China Chapter intends to organize its annual conference in October 11-12 after the Strategic Scholars Meeting that will be attended predominately by Chinese speaking scholars. We expect the participants of over one hundred and probably over two hundreds. University of International Business and Economics will be the anchor institution for AIB annual conference in 2014. The detailed program will be announced soon.

VI. Other Initiatives

. China Chapter has developed a good working relationship with the State Committee of Master of International Business that regulates the master-level IB education in China. We organized a meeting in the summer of 2013 to discuss related matters. The Council would like to develop future collaboration with AIB in term of education curriculum design and other matters
